Annex 1. 'Registration' button is not visible?

- When you log in for the first time after the sign-up process, there are some cases where the 'Registration' button is not visible at the menu bar and instead your name is appearing there.
- This happens when the e-mail address you used for the web-page registration is different from the one used for the conference registration.
- In this case, you should register to the web-page again using the same e-mail address you used for the conference registration.

If your name is appearing here instead of 'Registration' after the sign-up process, please refer to the above trouble-shooting guide.
